1. A barracks installation of about 15 buildings, located on Rakowiecka Street, housed a Polish infantry unit prior to 17 April 1950. * Only German carbines, submachine guns and Czech machine guns were observed with the troops when they marched out of the billeting area.
2. Three large barracks buildings east of the Belvedere Castle were occupied by Polish troops. **
3. A very large fuel depot was northwest of the race track on the southern perimeter of the city, on the exit road to Piaseczno (R 53/L 07). There were eight fuel tanks about 30 meters square and 3 meters high covered with earth. There also was a fuel pump station. Another, and apparently larger, fuel depot was to the northwest. ***
4. Military ration supply depots were located in the former fortifications along the western bank of the Vistula River. Army trucks with personnel wearing yellow, blue and green ribbons around their caps were frequently seen at the depots.
